XtremeMac™

XtremeHD component video™

The XtremeHD™ Component Video Cable connects video sources such as Apple TV, High Definition TV, DVD players, satellite receivers, cable boxes and digital video recorders to your A/V receiver or television.

Don't be fooled by the compact design. Our component video cable is constructed with the highest-quality materials and is guaranteed to deliver vibrant color and excellent clarity to your display. The connectors and split center pin are plated with 24k gold to ensure a lasting signal. Durable rubber overmolding insulates and protects the cable and connector and allows for easy installation.
